*If one member suffers,
all suffer together with it. 1 Cor 12:26*

We continue to pray for the 215 children who died in Kamloops and in residential schools throughout the country – they must not be forgotten. We all seek the truth and this tragic discovery provides yet another opportunity for us to learn more about this dark chapter in our history and the painful journey experienced by so many of our Indigenous brothers and sisters.

There is much more work to be done. Since the 1990's, many of the Catholic entities responsible for the operation of residential schools have apologized publicly for their actions and have journeyed together with victims on the path to truth and reconciliation. This includes the Oblates of Mary Immaculate, the religious order that operated the residential school in Kamloops, which over the weekend again apologized for its role in the residential school system. Pope Benedict XVI also had the chance to meet with Indigenous leaders in 2009 to personally express his sorrow and anguish. These actions do not erase our history; they acknowledge our past, force us to face the consequences of our behaviour and compel us to ensure that our sins are not repeated.

To read about the delegation to the Holy See, the May 30, 2021 apology from the Missionary Oblates of Mary Immaculate, apologies and resources from the Canadian

Reflection for this weekend

Have You Still No Faith?

In the Old Testament, the waters were considered as a terrible monster and symbol of all negative and evil forces. If you see the big waves rocking your boat and the strong winds blowing with horrifying sounds, you can really be frightened. Only God was capable to tame the sea and prevent it from harming people.

The setting of the Gospel on this 12th Sunday in Ordinary time is the Lake of Genesareth. Jesus asked the disciples to cross the other side, and while doing so, he fell asleep. A terrible storm came, so strong that even the disciples, mostly expert fishermen, panicked. They woke Jesus up, Teacher, do you not care that we are perishing? Jesus talked to the sea as if addressing a person: Peace be still! A great calm followed. Now, Jesus questioned the disciples in turn: Have you still no faith?

The evangelist St. Mark recounts the story in order to impart many lessons. In his three years of public ministry, Jesus did not always wait for fair weather before going out to do the work entrusted to Him by his Father. Even in slumber, he is in full control of the journey. It was he who set the destination. He knows that the water may be rough and the sailing tough, but he is not worried. He does not fear the roaring sea for he knows his Father's power over it.

Leaving the shore, the stable ground, to cross the rocking waters is to take a risk. Following Jesus entails letting go of our security, being ready to face danger for a cause and always being aware that God is with us. We are never alone on our journey; we are on the same boat with Jesus and our fellow disciples. When our focus is on the big waves, strong winds and our awareness of our powerlessness, we forget about the presence and power of Jesus. In the original setting of the story, if the boat collapsed, Jesus would have drowned too.

Note that Jesus did not say, have you no faith? It is important to underline the word 'still'. That means that faith is not static, it is in constant growth. Later on, the disciples' faith will grow and become so strong that they were able to face all kinds of dangers without panicking. They know that Jesus is on the same boat with them. He is capable of calming all kinds of storms. Even the wind and the sea obey him. Fr. Roselle
