The Pope's Prayer Intention for September:
An Environmentally Sustainable Lifestyle
We pray that we all will make courageous choices for a simple and environmentally sustainable lifestyle, rejoicing in our young people who are resolutely committed to this.

Congratulations to Lincoln Kovarik

Who was baptized and welcomed into family of the Catholic Church on August 28
Congratulations to his parents Fhria &
Daniel, their extended family and friends

We pray for the students, teachers and school staff as school resumes for in person learning. May everyone be kept safe by the Lord and make this year a joyful experience and as near normal as possible.

He has Done Everything Well

The Gospels help us to meet Jesus. They tell us who he is and what kind of a man he was during his life on earth. They tell us about his mission for which he lived and died. The gospel on this Twenty-third Sunday in Ordinary Time shows us the man Jesus exercising his ministry.

The man Jesus was many things. He was a credible teacher, unlike the hypocritical scribes and Pharisees. He lived compassion and mercy as he showed himself to be at home with all types of people, even with sinners and those who did not always observe all the details of the Law. Something magnetic about his personality attracted crowds to listen to him. A man of deep prayer, he had a profound sense of his relationship with God his Father. He was a man who was totally faithful to his mission, despite being misunderstood and rejected. He was so committed to his mission that he declared that his food was "to do the will of the One who sent him and to carry out his work" (John 4: 34).

The Gospel reading today is about a cure which give credence to his claims and mission. The healing of the deaf man with a speech impediment was not simply a story of a healing miracle. It is the story of an event which helps to explain the mission and ministry of Jesus.

The disciples of John the Baptist wondered if this man Jesus was the one for whom the people were waiting, the long-awaited Messiah. John sent followers to Jesus to ask, "Are you the one who is to come, or should we expect someone else?" The reply of Jesus was, "go back and report to John what you hear and see: the blind see, the lame walk, the lepers made clean, the deaf hear, the dead are brought back to life and the good news is reaching the poor" (Matthew 11: 2 - 5).

Today's Gospel reading is not just about a miracle: it gives us a key for understanding the mission of Jesus. It shows that the mission and ministry of Jesus was to liberate people from burdens that prevented them from living life fully. Curing the deaf man and enabling him to speak are examples of the liberating mission of Jesus.

The miracles performed by Jesus for those who were deaf, mute, blind and lame are at the roots of Church's concern for the handicapped. St. Pope John Paul II wrote in his encyclical letter Laborem Exercens: "in spite of the limitations and sufferings affecting their bodies and faculties, they point up clearly the dignity and greatness of the human person". The Compendium of the Social Doctrine of the Church states: 'since persons with disabilities are subjects with their rights, they are to be helped to participate in every dimension of family and social level accessible to them and according to their possibilities'.

Let us continue to contribute in our own lives to this mission of helping our brothers and sisters with what they need to live their lives as fully as possible.

Fr. Roselle

Dear friends in Christ,
Earlier this year in the midst of the COVID pandemic, many of you contributed generously to the Good Friday Collection for the Custody of the Holy Land. We thank you for your solidarity and support of the pastoral works that benefit our Christian brothers and sisters and for maintaining the Holy Sites of our Church. If you were unable to contribute you are welcome to use the envelope located at the front and back of the church to do so. Thank you.

Living the Gospel by supporting residents of long-term care

The Houses of Providence in Scarborough is a ShareLife-funded agency that provides long-term care for seniors.

"It's been hard during COVID-19," says Mary, one of its residents, "but we understand the precautions that staff are taking. Providence staff have been absolutely wonderful and are doing a good job. I thank them every time I see them for their hard work."

Did you know that you can contribute to ShareLife agencies like the Houses of Providence through Pre-Authorized Giving? Please consider making a monthly contribution to ShareLife using PAG.

October 3 is the next ShareLife Sunday. Please give generously during the special collection or anytime at sharelife.org.
