Reflection: Beauty and Madness

There is an underlying factor in the lives of Isaiah, Paul and Simon Peter in this Sunday's (5th in Ordinary Time) readings. There was an appeal to their hearts, to their consciences, to their worlds. The beauty and madness of the divine call invoked beauty and madness as well from these reluctant human beings. God led them to uneasy confrontations with themselves that led Isaiah to recognize his unclean lips, that made Paul realize that he is the least of the apostles and Peter his sinful self.

'Depart from me' is a common reaction to a call deemed only fit for all-good, all-holy and all-worthy people. Of course, God is all these divine attributes but this divinity does not look down on what is human. After all, God created humanity in his own image and likeness. Despite his unclean lips, He sees Isaiah a great prophet and messenger of his Word. Initially the enemy of the young Church, he qualified Paul an apostle. And He considers Peter a rock, in spite of his weakness. God sees not how humans see or think the way humans think. Truly His ways are not our ways and His thoughts are not our thoughts.

This encounter with God caused 'shifts' and 'upheavals' in their unworthy lives like earthquakes moving along fault lines. Journeys from old selves to new selves came to the fore and things were never the same again after that. The scared, the insecure and the proud became true champions of the faith, hope and love.

Grace that undeserved acceptance and affirmation but what unconditionally offered to them made Isaiah, Paul and Peter move out from their selfish worlds to the greater vineyard to which they were sent. Grace went against the inward and egoistic current of self-abasement. Grace 'counter flowed' and the current moved outward – giving life, light and hope wherever they went, emptying themselves of this self-centredness and letting in courage to become fishers of men and women; letting in the burning coals and utter, 'Here I am' finally and allowing grace to define one's true self 'I am what I am' as a testimony that 'His grace has not been in vain' (Second Reading).

Like Isaiah, Paul and Peter, we have the same chances. We are heirs to the same grace. Jesus can change our hearts. Let us not give up hoping. Fr. Roselle

Kindergarten Registration SMCDSB

Is your child turning 4 in 2022?

If so, it's time to register for Kindergarten! There is something truly unique and special about learning that is rooted in faith and spiritual growth.

It is a blessing that the youngest members of our parish have the opportunity to grow in spirit and faith within a Catholic school community. Catholic schools offer distinct faith-filled learning experiences, with a combined focus on academic, spiritual, social and emotional growth. Together, our Catholic schools and our parish community will guide children in their ongoing growth in faith.

To help parents and students get ready for Kindergarten, the board has developed a package, including a parent booklet.

We encourage parents who want to register their child for kindergarten to visit the website at smcdsb.on.ca for welcome videos and registration information.
