The Pope's Prayer Intention for April

For Health Care Workers

We pray for health care workers who serve the sick and the elderly, especially in the poorest countries; may they be adequately supported by governments and local communities.

Reflection: Misery and Mercy

St. Augustine describes the story of the woman caught in the act of adultery so intensely: relictisunt duo, misera et misericordia, that is 'only two remains: the wretched woman and the incarnation of mercy'. It is the day when misery and mercy meet. Jesus invites us to look sincerely into our hearts, especially for occasionally entertaining feelings of arrogance and self-righteousness. Let anyone among you who is without sin be the first to throw a stone at her. The woman received forgiveness and absolution. Jesus showed her the respect she deserved. Jesus treated her with mercy and compassion. The woman is given a second chance.

God doesn't want us to remain in the remembrance of past sins, past sorrows, and past disappointments. Through the prophet Isaiah (1st Reading), God tells us: Do not remember the former things or consider the things of old. I am about to do a new thing. The only thing that we must do, in the words of St. Paul (2nd Reading): forgetting what lies behind and straining forward to what lies ahead... press on toward the goal for the prize of the heavenly call of God in Jesus Christ. Go on your way and from now on do not sin again (Gospel). God recognizes every individual's potential to move forward and consequently live a holy life.

The Gospel presents two types of sinners. First, there is the woman who was caught in the act of adultery. Second, there are the scribes and Pharisees who were totally lacking in compassion and are proud, arrogant and self-righteous. They arrogated unto themselves the prerogative to sit judgment on others.

The woman in the story is not an isolated sinner. This woman represents all of us. Similarly, the scribes and the Pharisees also symbolize all of us. We have all sinned and fallen short of the glory of God (Romans 3: 23). The Gospel Sunday recounts in a particularly dramatic manner the quality and extent of divine forgiveness. The sin may be terrible but the sinner who repents is always forgiven.

Mercy is a gift that is freely given. Mercy does not gloss over the crime. It does not say that the guilty is not really guilty. Mercy simply rises above everything and cancels the penalty out of the sheer goodness and graciousness of the one who has been offended.

This is how St. Paul experiences Christ's redemption: not having a righteousness of my own... but one that comes through faith in Christ.

The Synod on Synodality:

Pope Francis is asking every Catholic to help discern what the Holy Spirit is telling us at this moment as the Church enters its third millennium. The first phase of the Synod on Synodality will last through the first half of 2022 and will see the world's faithful sharing their thoughts at a diocesan level. All those diocesan-level responses will be collected and summarized.

Meeting Nights:

Tuesday, March 22nd 7 pm
 Thursday, April 21st 7 pm
 Thursday, May 19th 7 pm
 Thursday, June 23rd 7 pm
 Thursday, July 21st 7 pm
